ABOUT

With over 13 years' experience in the Staffing and Human Resources industry, Maria brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise to OccuMed Occupational Healthworks.

Maria has worked closely with hiring leaders and diverse workforce populations and her passion is providing HR solutions for her clients by helping them build their HR infrastructure through technology, compliance and people. Thus, her extensive experience and creative collaborative efforts make the OccuMed process seamless and efficient from beginning to end.

Developing professional relationships and understanding specific customer requirements afford Maria the ability to tailor the OccuMed service offerings precisely to match the individual needs of each client.

With an M.B.A from Suffolk University, Maria has built a successful career by combining her years of Operational Management experience, with her exceptional client relations background to grow the foundation of successful business endeavors.

Her professional integrity, enthusiasm, and commitment to excellence are reflected in her position as Director of Business Development & Human Resources for OccuMed Occupational Healthworks.
